Withdrawal from a Credit Class through the Hopkins Summer School

In accordance with the academic policies set forth by the Hopkins School, a Hopkins student taking a summer school class for credit (Math 20, Math 55, Physics, Introduction to Computer Programming, and Atlantic Communities II & III) must keep these guidelines in mind with respect to withdrawal.

i) a Hopkins student may withdraw from or change the for-credit status of a course before the end of the second week of summer school. The course name and date of withdrawal/change of credit will not appear on the academic transcript.

ii) a Hopkins student may withdraw from or change the for-credit status of a course before the end of the third week of summer school. The course name and date of withdrawal/change of credit will appear on the academic transcript, in addition to a grade of WP (withdrawn passing) or WF (withdrawn failing).

iii) a Hopkins student may withdraw from or change the for-credit status of a course after the third week of summer school. The course name and date of withdrawal/change of credit will appear on the academic transcript, in addition to a letter grade representing the cumulative average of work up to the midterm, that is, the end of week three.
